MEDIA KIT 2012

Established since 1996, APT Publications publish a suite of 3 magazines showcasing HV and LV electrical power:

Transmission & Distribution, Industrial Electrix and Energy Generation.

Each magazine is uniquely focused and each magazine has its own dedicated reader database. Subscription is free to persons working within the electricity generation, transmission, distribution and industrial industries.

To ensure their integrity, APT's databases are updated on a daily basis upon receipt of advisement from the readers. These databases are held in the strictest confidence and are not available for sale or use by any other party.

Market research confirms the readership of print (hard copy) magazines averages a minimum of five (5) times circulation i.e. 8992 audited circulation equates to $\pm 45,000$ readers.

eMAGAZINE

In addition to the print copy, each magazine is additionally published in a digital eFlip format and hyperlinked to each advertiser's website or email address. It is circulated through a registered electronic database and past issues are archived online at our website at www.powertrans.com.au

We invite your evaluation of Transmission & Distribution and look forward to discussing with you the best options to maximise your advertising outcome.

Yours sincerely,

Roland Gautier

EDITORIAL PHILOSOPHY

APT Publications do NOT source or publish media releases offered to the mainstream media.

APT's readers are considered our FIRST priority. We publish technical articles that offer practical, informative and highly valuable information to keep the reader abreast of technical developments in their industry.

Articles authored by Engineers...for Engineers based on the actual applications and use of products and services.

Written by qualified professionals, their experience and proven reputation will provide readers with reliable solutions to everyday problems. Each issue of Transmission & Distribution, Industrial Electrix and Energy Generation is comprehensive in its content.

ADVERTORIAL PHILOSOPHY

Advertiser-supplied advertorial... is an OPTION for the advertiser. We recommend it as the intelligent aside to corporate branding and image advertising i.e. a Technical Article or Case Study that expands in detail on the product/service being advertised. Editor approved, information-based advertorial will be published free of charge next to your advert, or separate to the advert upon request.
